

Trump talks about solar power

President Trump went off about his views of the U.S. wind and solar industries during his July 8 cabinet meeting, signaling a rough road ahead for renewable energy.

Trump called wind and solar power "the scam of the century" and vowed not to approve new projects. The federal government canceled grants for hundreds of projects.

President Donald Trump has launched an unprecedented attack on wind and solar power as he seeks to reshape the US energy landscape and reverse the green agenda put forward by his predecessor.

Since taking office, the Trump Administration has paused permits on all new wind and solar projects on public land, both onshore and offshore. New wind and solar power installations, and...

WASHINGTON (AP) -- With electricity prices rising at more than twice the rate of inflation, President Donald Trump has lashed out at renewable energy sources such as wind and solar power, blaming ...

President Donald Trump "s attack on solar and wind projects threatens to raise energy prices for consumers and undermine a stretched electric grid that"s already straining to meet rapidly...

A funny thing happened on the way to President Donald Trump"s mission to obliterate renewable energy. Solar and wind energy use is surging, especially globally, but even in the United States.

Trump has attacked renewable power from every angle, but energy justice scholar Sanya Carley envisions an affordable green future.

The extra layer of scrutiny for wind and solar contrasts with actions by the Trump administration to make it easier and cheaper for companies to produce oil, coal, gas and nuclear power.

POLITICO"s analysis of U.S. Energy Information Administration power price data contradicts arguments by President Donald Trump and his appointees that a heavy dependence on ...
